OVERVIEW

Garmin has portfolios distributed across eight investment managers, and their manual reporting processes made evaluating these various managers' returns and performance difficult. Gathering data from so many different entities made closing their books at month-end and preparing regulatory disclosures tedious and time-consuming.

With Clearwater, Garmin has access to a detailed and consolidated view of all their investments, at any time. Clearwater's customizable reports and dashboards provide Garmin with clear optics and metrics to analyze their managers' performance. In addition, they can quickly pull data and run reports for regulatory disclosures like SEC Forms 10K and 10Q, FAS-115, and others.

REASONS FOR CHOOSING CLEARWATER

- Customizable reports for a consolidated and detailed view of overall investments
- Precise metrics for analyzing managers' performance
- Streamlined reporting for regulatory disclosures
- Efficient month-end close process

“ We love Clearwater for the simplification it provides. We have the ability to know in real-time what our holdings and their market values are. With the incredible volatility in our economic times, it's a comfort to know you don't have to wait until the end of the month to see where your investments stand, and to be able to report on them at any time. ”
